

You've learned skinny little water guns are no match to a 22-liter pail.

You know how to discern truth looking into their eyes when someone bluffs you.

Just look at what a great Leader you've become after all those YM experiences...

And you know how to have a great time with a bunch of guys...
What more could you want from a Missionary?

From your Quorum buddies

