

Instead of eating your birthday cake, you make it.

And you'd rather prepare and make your birthday dinner, for all to enjoy.

When it's close to your birthday, you just feel like being Santa, and give instead of receive.

May life serve you bacon all your days.

From you're Quorum Buddies

